

I answer the phone all day long at work. I feel that my privacy is invaded when I'm forced to answer the phone at home, only to have someone try and sell me something that I did not ask for or want. I feel it is my RIGHT to have that peace and quiet in the evening